Chair's Corner

Leadership networking is not just a talent reserved for the gregarious; it is a skill that takes practice. To be a successful leader, one must develop the right kind of networks and learn to utilize them comfortably. In this article from the Harvard Business Review, the authors present and discuss three types of networks that are necessary for successful leaders and how to employ them strategically.

International Opportunities through the NSF

This month, ADVANCE is hosting Dr. John Tsapogas, Program Coordinator for the Global Initiatives Program in the Office of International Science and Engineering (OISE) at the National Science Foundation (NSF). On April 8, 2010, Dr. Tsapogas will be presenting from 12:00 to 1:30 at the Alumni Pavilion on the international funding opportunities that are available through NSF. Dr. Tsapogas will be available following his presentation for meetings on an appointment basis. Private meetings times are limited; please contact Dr. Schulte (k.schulte@neu.edu) if you wish to reserve a timeslot. Lunch will be served at this event and researchers from across the Boston area have been invited. We encourage you to RSVP to save a seat to this highly informative event.

Career Decision Making

On Thursday April 22, 2010 at 2:50-4:30 in 411 RI, Professor Y. Barry Chung, the Department Chair of Counseling and Applied Psychology, will present career advice focusing on how to navigate institutions, especially academic institutions, when you have a minority status. This event aims to offer strategies for positive decision making in your career. If you are just starting out or have an advanced senior position, this event includes information that can help you become even more successful. To attend this event, please RSVP here. Light refreshments will be served.

About Advance: www.northeastern.edu/advance

Northeastern University is a National Science Foundation funded ADVANCE Institutional Transformation site. This site's theme is to advance women in interdisciplinary and international networks. This 5-year institutional program is closely aligned with Northeastern's move toward interdisciplinary scholarship and increased global engagement. The Northeastern ADVANCE Program reports to the Office of the Provost. ADVANCE is funded by NSF Award HRD-08111701.
