The clickers are coming! If you haven't heard, the EdTech and the Helpdesk are supporting the use of clickers in the classroom environment. The following article from Tomorrow's Professor presents suggestions on how this technology can be used for teaching in the classroom. However, actual face time is worth more educational capital than time spent with technology. As ideas unfold in a classroom we should be flexible enough to move with them and respond to our audience. The following article reminds us that there is art to the practice of teaching that a personal touch can only provide.

Thank you to everyone who participated this year! To celebrate the end of our second year, we are hosting an informal networking luncheon on August 3, 2010. Come to relax and enjoy a cool summer lunch, to network with your colleagues, or to let us know what you think about next year's line-up of events. ADVANCE and the Chemistry Community

ADVANCE and COACH will be co-sponsoring a reception event on August 21 at this year's American Chemical Society's Fall National Meeting held in Boston. At this reception, ADVANCE will be offering postdoctoral and graduate students the opportunity for a faculty search committee member to review their CV and offer tips on how to make them stand out. If your graduate students or post docs are attending the ACS National Meeting we encourage you to invite them to this event. To sign up, submit CVs to nuadvance@neu.edu with the subject line: "Participant for ACS CV Mark-up".
