Chair's Corner

What makes for a successful (group) leader? In a recent article from Tomorrow's Professor, the author presents five common practices shared by successful leaders that include: challenging the process, inspiring a shared vision, enabling others to act, modeling the way, and encouraging the heart. These practices are said not to be innate to an individual - but to include attitudes, procedures, and skills that nearly anyone can learn and emulate.

Patents and Technology Transfer: A Panel Discussion

Do you have an idea you want patented or questions about the patent process? On Thursday, April 14, 2011 Jeff Kosiba, of the Office of Innovation and Commercialization, will present on the specifics of the patent process here at Northeastern. Joining him will be Associate Professor Greg Kowalski (Mechanical Engineering) and Professor Vince Harris (Electrical and Computer Engineering), who both have experience with the patenting process. The panel discussion on process and experience will conclude a question and answer session.

The event will be held from noon until 1:30pm in 411 Richards Hall. To reserve your space at this informative luncheon, please RSVP here.

Work-Life Intergration - with Professor Jamie Ladge

SAVE THE DATE!

At noon on May 18, 2011, Northeastern ADVANCE will host a luncheon in 411 Richards Hall on Work- Life Integration. Jamie Ladge, Assistant Professor of Management and Organizational Development in the College of Business, will be guiding the conversation. Professor Ladge is also an expert in stigmatized social identities and gender and diversity issues in organizations. She will be presenting research on the intersection of identity, careers and work-life integration in organizations. Her presentation will be followed by a question and answer session and discussion. We encourage faculty of all levels to come and share their experiences. From marathoners to moms, all balancing acts are welcome. Please RSVP here to reserve your place around the table for this event.
